The Old Chimeras of Consolidation.
With some of our doctors of politics, the lessons of experience are the doctrine of philosophy alike for nothing. Notwithstanding the many political and teachings of the wisest statesmen, and in spite of the uniform experience of all try for a century, and particularly the better science of the last ten years there are still some who are in the habit of declaring that State rights are in peril from the aggression of the National Government. This sentiment is kept up, though it is known to all who are the smallest knowledge of the history of the country, that the only disturbance which have arisen in our political system have arisen from the desire of the States on the protection of the Government of the Union. A series of events has just occurred, wherein the States were struggling for its life.

The authority of a portion of the States, and yet the people were to be told that the States were in peril from the aggression of the National Government. FROM THE UPPER COUNTRY.

The following items are from the Columbia River of Jan 24th.
Mr. Story has put up 300 tons of beautiful ice which will be sold during the summer at reasonable rates.

A letter express and mail arrived on Wednesday evening being the first since the closure of the route, from the Dalles. Mr. Ward continues to make regular trips to and from the Dalles and Camanche, arriving here in the afternoon, several hours ahead of time.

A Mexican named Bonera died very suddenly in Charley Rose's saloon on Sunday the 5th inst. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

The recent quarterly school examination reflected great credit on both scholars and teacher. The pupils numbered 30, girls, 20, boys, 25, at average attendance 90.

On the night of the 22d ult. Deputy Sheriff Hager arrested Al Igo in this city. Igo murdered a man named Billy Page, at Lewiston 1st, and was committed to jail by Justice Adams, on the 23d ult. Igo broke jail at Lewiston and made his escape. The Sheriff of Nez Perce county offered a reward of $500 for his apprehension and delivery. A copy of this reward and description of Igo being in the Sheriff's office at this place, and a Deputy Hager seeing a man answering said description about town, arrested him. On Thursday morning he had an examination before Justice Moore, H. H. Morford prosecuting and H. A. Gier, defending. Several witnesses were examined, proving conclusively that the prisoner was the man suspected at Lewiston, for killing Page. He was remanded to jail to await the request of Gov. Wall, when he will be sent to Lewiston for trial.

After Igo broke jail he made his way to the Dalles and thence to Blackfoot, and has now returned to the vicinity of the place of the murder. It seems probable that he should have been taken into custody at once, but he was not. The man Page was the same who turned State's evidence in the case of the Granger murder. From what we can learn of the case, Igo was not justified in killing the man, but owing to the prejudice against Page, it is thought that he will find a jury verdict against him. — Columbia River Jan 25th.

From the Lewiston Journal we get the following:
Mr. Fairchild, the expressman informs us that to connect with Elk City over the three month express, Mr. Fairchild will be in the city of the spring, Mr. F. will add to his already efficient express for the accommodation of his patrons.

The Warren Express will on this time, on Monday, make two trips, one to Lewiston, and one to Blackfoot. There are no other express lines from these places at present. They have made arrangements to increase their facilities next season.

Mr. Goddard Gamble received by last express the first bar from the Hot Lake. It was produced by the Pioneer Mill, and made a present to him by the Company. The quality of the bar is superior to that from the South Lake, and will bring at least one dollar more to the owner.

The last bar has been generally sold and sold. The bar has been sold as low as 19¢ at Lewiston, and 20¢ at Blackfoot. The bar is a fine quality, and is well adapted for the purpose. The bar is a fine quality, and is well adapted for the purpose.

A gentleman direct from the Yakima valley states that snow has fallen there to the depth of several feet. The snow is a fine quality, and is well adapted for the purpose. The snow is a fine quality, and is well adapted for the purpose.

Philip Ritz, of Walla Walla, who is making a tour through the Rocky Mountain region, writes as follows to the Oregonian:
The Yellowstone Valley is probably the largest and finest body of land in Montana, and will make three or four good counties. The yellow stone river is said to be half as large as the Mississippi, and is a fine body of water. The valley is a fine body of water, and is a fine body of water.

My report to the North Pacific Railroad Co. of the range of the thermometer, depth of snow, etc., will establish those who claim that a railroad can be built from the north over the Rocky Mountain range in the winter.
